Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lung. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousand and millions of capillaries adding force to them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is but one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boese's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

The Latest and Greatest Discovery

Dr. J. F. Pratt's Hamburg Fig. A crystallized fruit cake. A day's work of the greatest interest to the Middle West. A boon to every household. A most delicious laxative or purgative, prepared from fruits and vegetable, containing no harmful ingredients. It may be administered with entire safety to an infant. So efficacious to adults that a single dose will prove its value, and so elegant a preparation that it needs only to be presented to the public to become a necessity in every household throughout the land. For every complaint, habitual constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and piles, they are a specific. To relieve a sea and land traveler will be found invaluable; they are positively refreshing in their action, and this is the only medicine ever offered to the public that is acceptable to the taste and so pleasant that children will eat them as eagerly as candy. For sale by every Druggist throughout the world. Price, 2 cents a box. J. J. Mack & Co., Prop's, 9 and 11 Front Street, San Francisco, Cal.

A Multitude of Ailments.

The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outrunning the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulant which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse into a state of perverted inactivity, and afterwards into one of painful organic disease, which soon despoils the delicate instrument, so soon the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this potent. It promotes activity to the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood which have no natural channel of outlet, except those organs. Constipation, biliousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

A Luxury and Necessity.

For rich and poor who wish to enjoy good health, and who do not wish to resort to bitter nauseous liver medicines and cathartics, is the concentrated California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. 50c. and $1 bottles for sale by Wm. Pinniger, Reno, Nevada.

THURSDAY JUNE 30, 1917

There is a great deal of quiet work done in the interest of Senator Stanford for President. His friends on this Coast are active; the National Republican and other journals East are advocating the Senator's claims. His nativity being New York, his great wealth, his philanthropy, his public spirit, his business capacity, his record as Governor and U. S. Senator of California and Blaine's friendship for him are all factors in his probable candidacy. The chief arguments made against his candidacy are two; first, that he is a railroad magnate, which fact would make him unpopular with the labor elements; second, that he lives in the extreme West and too remote from the great masses to be generally a favorite. That Stanford has merits which commend him to the people as a Presidential candidate is evident to anyone who has given the subject any attention; that he would be available, however, as a great leader of his party in the coming campaign, is a question and one that the people, at least of this coast, will soon be called upon to consider.

The proposition of some writers that criminal penalties should be provided for the great gamblers who corner wheat, coffee, pork and other necessities of life, arouses the scorn of the New York Post, which disposes of the idea as follows: "The men who do a strictly gambling business in wheat and coffee cannot be distinguished from those who do a legitimate business. It is neither illegal nor immoral to buy and sell wheat for future delivery. There are great advantages to both producers and consumers in such trading." Consequently the Post thinks that the law cannot touch the open and undisguised gamblers who render legitimate and conservative business well-nigh impossible. Gambling in the necessities of life is a great evil; but it is not so great as the combinations to create artificial scarcity in the same staples. The criminal law can reach both evils, if it is fearlessly and honestly enforced in the interest of the common people.

Sporting is popular and it pays. Murphy, the horseback rider, gets $5,000 per annum; Kelly, the famous base-ball player, $4,000 per annum. The Washington club paid the Chicago club $10,000 simply to release Kelly from a three-years' contract so that the former might have the privilege of engaging his services at the amount named. In this whole State there is not a schoolmaster, newspaper editor, minister of the gospel or author who gets even as much as one-half the salary paid to Murphy, the sport and horse jockey. A few weeks ago Senator Conkling, the intellectual giant, as unworthy of notice, was shoved off the side walk in Washington by a big crowd trying to get so much as a glimpse of John L. Sullivan, the physical giant. While the great geniuses Booth, Barrett and Irving play to houses of less than 2,000, the base-ball players in the eastern cities now play to audiences of from 5,000 to 20,000.

The London Times might effect a considerable economy of time and space by simply stating the crimes, if any, that it does not consider Mr. Parnell to have been engaged in during the last decade. From the Times' standpoint Mr. Parnell's chief crime is in living.

THE FIDELITY BANK CASE.

CINCINNATI, June 30.
David Armstrong has had his bond as receiver of the Fidelity National Bank accepted and is now in charge of the affairs of that defunct institution. Comptroller Trenholm and Solicitor McCue went to Washington last night, having given to the receiver and the U. S. District Attorney here respectively, such instruction as could be given at this time. Trenholm, in a conversation, said he would deal with the bank upon the principle that National Banks hold a fiduciary relation to the public, and that the profits upon the stock are in part considered for a proper discharge of the trust by the officers, chosen by the stockholders, and when, as in the case of the Fidelity Bank, this trust is betrayed by the officers, it is the duty of the Government to award punishment not only to the men active in the wrong doing, but also to those who, being in a position to protect the interests of the depositors, neglected or omitted to discharge that duty.

Bids will be received at the Department until August 2d next, when the proposals will be opened.

Field Retires from the Manhattan.

NEW YORK, June 29.
The World this morning says: Cyrus Field turned over the remainder of his Manhattan stock to Gould yesterday. The amount was 20,000 shares, which with 50,000 shares previously disposed of by Field shows a total holding of 70,000 shares. The value of Field's block of stock at the market prices, before the downward movement was $11,200,000. He now has no interest in the Manhattan, and will retire from the Board of Directors. Gould will keep 50,000 shares to add to his own holding, making his total $10,000,000. He will split up a block of 20,000 shares. This stock was subscribed for yesterday. Field claims that he got $120 per share for his stock.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

The Blythe Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.
Edmund J. Moffatt, United States Deputy Consul General at London, England, has written to the Probate Court of this city to state that a portion of the estate of the late Thomas H. Blythe is being offered for sale in London, and asking if it is done by authority of the Court. He says the property is all-gold to be located in Sonora, Mexico, out of the jurisdiction of the Court, but that the administrator of the estate has ordered its sale.
E. Leavenby, a Justice of the Peace at Glroy, has written to Judge Coffee that he is willing to testify that T. H. Blythe, the millionaire, came over from England in the same ship with him in 1849. His testimony would rather disprove the theory that Blythe was a ticket-of-leave man, and came here from Australia, as alleged by some of his heirs.

Decker, of this city, charges Mackenzie with having embezzled 400 shares of Crocker stock, valued at $800, entrusted to him in November last. Bail was set at $1,000 bond, or $500 cash.

PINNIGER-HERZ.
Pharmacy-Jewelry-Drugs-Diamonds-Cosmetics-Ornaments-A Grand Success.

It seems that the brief description given in the columns of the GAZETTE are growing more popular daily and I have this evening the pleasure of giving your readers another interesting pen picture of two prominent business houses. On Virginia next door south of Mr. Barnett's clothing store are two establishments in one large and commodious room, the proprietors being

MESSRS. PINNIGER AND HERZ.

The former is one of Reno's most prominent druggists and a native of England, while the other is one of her leading jewelers and a native of Germany. I will deal with the first in the order named, so as to make this article intelligible.

Mr. William Pinniger, when a mere lad of 12 years, entered a drug store in England and rapidly prepared himself for entrance to a pharmaceutical institution, from whence he graduated with honor. After leaving college, at which, under the laws of England, every student is subjected to a rigid examination, he entered the famous pharmacy of Starkie & Co., on the Strand, London. After perfecting his knowledge he was soon engaged by the celebrated firm of J. C. Fay, of Kingsland Gate, London. Like many of his countrymen he thought America presented a broader field, and in 1872 he was employed by W. H. Laws & Co., on Eighth Avenue and Broadway, New York. The year 1874 found him on the Comstock in the employ of A. M. Cole, with whom he remained for three years.

MR. PINNIGER,

In 1877, came to the city by the river side, and by dint of his industry, at the end of four years he bought out his employer. Unfortunately for him, at the end of four months the disastrous fire which laid Reno in ashes consumed all he had. At this juncture he formed a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, and in June, 1886, bought that gentleman's interest and began business in the stand he now occupies. His long experience, which embraces a period of 27 years, and his well established reputation for carefulness in the preparation of medicines, soon brought him a large and profitable trade. His education embraces a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, chemistry, botany and materia medica, so that to-day the leading physicians of the State feel perfectly safe in entrusting their prescriptions to him. Thus the confidence of the entire community was secured, and in order to still further command it he has engaged the professional services of that well-known pharmacist, Mr. J. R. Mason. This gentleman's experience is his best recommendation, and his name is familiar, not only here, but on the Comstock and all over the eastern part of the State. I think Mr. Pinniger was very fortunate in securing his services. Mr. Pinniger carries a full line of the finest and most

SELECT DRUGS, CHEMICALS, ETC.,

To be found in the market. He has a cool and well stored warehouse on Commercial Row, where large quantities of drugs and other necessities are carefully stored. In the store proper his stock is complete, consisting as it does of drugs, perfumery, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes, toilet requisites, elastic stockings, surgical appliances, trusses, combs, brushes, cosmetics of every description, and all essentials to a first-class pharmacy. On the right-hand entrance to this popular place there is a large soda water fountain, at which in this hot weather many ladies and gentlemen alight their thirst. There are two beautiful mansard roof cases on the counter. In each appears all the knick-knacks peculiar to a well regulated drug store. In the rear there is a capacious laboratory, where all medicines are carefully compounded, and where they manufacture their own extracts, tinctures, etc. The show window and its contents evidence much good taste on the part of Mr. Pinniger. Pleasant pictures adorn the wall, while the vessels containing the liquids which save life are kept sealed and beautifully labelled in letters of gold, giving the store a cheery appearance and makes one feel perfectly at home in the presence of the

OBEDIENT PROPRIETOR AND HIS ASSISTANTS.

Prescriptions are sent to him from the whole surrounding country, many coming all the way from Utah. Mr. Pinniger resides with his family on Third street, between Chestnut and Commercial Row. The public will be glad to learn that shortly after the Fourth of July a night bell will be attached to the drug store, as a new story in the rear of the building is in process of erection, in which his assistant will sleep in the future, so that it will make no difference at what hour patrons call they will be accommodated. Mr. Pinniger says that he is here to stay, and expresses great confidence in the future of Reno, in which he thoroughly agrees with him and so does

MR. RICHARD HERZ,

The expert jeweler who occupies the other half of this store. He was educated in his trade at the City of Leipzig, the seat of education in Germany, where he spent 10 years of close application. He worked four years in that city for Moritz Weiss, watchmaker to the King of Saxony. Being an industrious and full of enterprise he soon made his way to London, where he worked for I. Iverson, one of the most celebrated jewelers and diamond dealers on Oxford street. In 1873, when Mr. M. M. Frederick, the well-known jeweler of Virginia City, was in London he engaged Mr. Herz, who came direct to the Comstock, where he remained until 1885, when he purchased his present business from Wm. Goegle, and is now on the high road to success and fortune. His brother Otto is associated with him, and is considered one of the finest metal engravers on the coast. Specimens of his artistic skill are on exhibition in the

GRAND SHOW WINDOW,

Where also can be seen the magnificent medal which Hon. C. C. Fournier, President of the State Agricultural Society, will present to the individual who makes the best exhibit in any department at the next State Fair. Since Mr. Herz came to Nevada he has repaired over 15,000 watches. He takes his time in regulating watches from transit observations. He carries a costly stock of goods, and as regards diamonds he commands the strictest confidence of our people. All of his diamonds come direct from the European markets, as his long experience enables him to deal direct with foreign merchants, without being compelled to have his goods tampered with by jobbers or intermediate brokers. As an evidence a visit to his popular establishment will convince any connoisseur that he knows his business, for even in his magnificent show window can be seen two of the

that have ever been brought to Reno. The largest is valued at $340, and the other at $250. He has also diamonds ranging from $10 up to the price of the mammoth $540 specimen. He carries some fine old mine stones, which are considered the rarest ever exhibited here. Good & Martin, manufacturers of fine silver-plated ware, of Taunton, Mass., are the parties from whom he purchases the finest silver-plated ware that is brought to Nevada. One of the principal features of this establishment is the great quantity and select quality of Elgin and Waltham watches which he places fresh from the manufacturers before the admiring people of Reno. Being an adept in his business from the long experience he has enjoyed and the knowledge he has acquired he is able to readily detect the false from the true. His honesty and his reputation for veracity are well established, needing no commendation at my hands. In this business, like that of the druggist, the community naturally infer that the word of each should be his bond. Mr. Herz employs none but competent workmen, who are ready at any and all times to perform successfully the most difficult kinds of job work. Three large cases, elegantly mounted, adorn his counters and they are filled with the rarest and most artistically constructed and novelistically designed breast-pins, brooches and necklaces with medals or other attachments, and ladies' earrings, bracelets, rings, etc., of the most exquisite design. Here also can be purchased diamonds, gentlemen's studs, cuff and collar buttons, with or without diamonds, while gold and silver-headed ebony cases can be found in abundance and at reasonable prices. In the rear of the store is a large Hall's safe of the most improved pattern, in which is deposited the vast wealth of

THIS POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.

A visit to the show-windows will convince any connoisseur that Mr. Herz does not only display good taste, but that he makes it especially his business to furnish his customers with the latest improved styles of traced silver ware in the shape of vases, card baskets, spoons, card-cases, etc. Any reader with weak eyes who doubts this can readily convince himself of its truth by entering the store, purchasing a gold or silver mounted pair of spectacles and see for himself.

Mr. Herz resides with his family on the corner of West and Second streets, and has such come future customers of R. H. that he will shortly erect a handsome building next to the private residence of Dr. Dawson, where he expects to bring up his children and educate them in the fine public schools of his adopted country.

NAHOM.

Hymeneal.

At the Episcopal Church last evening, and in the presence of a large assemblage of friends, G. E. Holesworth, the well-known architect and builder, and Miss Branch Neill, one of Reno's estimable young ladies, were married, Bishop Whitaker officiating. While the couple were being escorted into the church by Ushers Mosher and Higgins, the Reno orchestra, of which Mr. Holesworth is a prominent member, played an appropriate wedding march. The bride was exquisitely attired in a white brocade silk dress, cut V-shaped in back and breast, trimmed with French lace and having a full court train. The ceremony was very impressive. As the bride and groom left the church to walk down the aisle their pathway was strewn with flowers by friends, and as they stepped into the carriage at the door, a large number crowded about them to offer congratulations. They were then driven off and several handfuls of rice thrown after them. The honeymoon will be spent at Lake Tahoe, for which resort they left on last night's overland.

Star Barber Shop.

Remember you can get your hair neatly cut in any style for 25 cents at the Star Barber shop on east side of Virginia street opposite F. Levy & Bros. dry goods store. Nothing but first-class work done. Give me a call and be satisfied. H. L. MEAD.

NOBLE CHARITY.

How a Novel Plan to Raise Money for the Widows and Orphans Caused by the Recent Disaster in Virginia City Worked in San Francisco.

Mr. John T. Brady, of Virginia City, who has been at the Bay for the past two weeks, arrived in Reno this morning on his way to Virginia City. In conversation with a GAZETTE reporter he said that the feeling of sympathy at the Bay for the widows and orphans of the dead and imprisoned miners is strong and sincere. Among other information gained from him was the fact that Mr. M. Levy, so well-known here and on the Comstock, has struck upon a novel way of testing the genuineness of the sorrow expressed by mining corporations and wealthy individuals in this wise: He examined the list of mines and what their cash capital is, and the quotations made of their stock at one morning session. Then, beginning with the Con. Virginia and going all the way down the long list, he made out an unguessed check and sent it, accompanied with a short circular explaining the object, and in almost every instance the check was signed and returned to him. Mr. Brady says that before he left yesterday afternoon, Mr. Levy showed him a pile of checks ranging from $10 up to $500 each, and he was assured that Mr. Levy alone, through his novel plan, will be able to send probably $25,000 to the sufferers. Noble work like this will bring its own reward.

Parties desiring ice cream by the quantity on the Fourth will please order in time. Fifty gallons sweet thick cream wanted on Sunday morning, July 31. Parties having such for sale, inquire at the Palace Bakery.

A CYCLONE!

Nothing has created so much talk as Breuner's elegant and immense line of Bedroom and Parlor Furniture. Suites for two, three, four, five and six hundred dollars. We can furnish you with a suite—the finest in the land or the cheapest to be had. Our trade has demonstrated that we carry the richest lines, and to-day we are shipping goods to San Francisco, Oakland and other parts of the State. San Francisco merchants cannot compete with us, as their store runs and other expenses are enormously high. Everybody admits that we sell the cheapest, and everyone who visits our stores says our assortment is as elegant as it is large.

If you desire anything in our line and cannot visit our stores, write us stating articles you want and will send you photographs and prices, and give you the same satisfaction as if you were selecting in our stores. Send for photograph of our $18 00 bedroom suite.

AN OPEN LETTER.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., June 3, 1887.
Dr. Prentice, 628 Sutter street, San Francisco—My Dear Doctor:—Please allow me to congratulate you (as well as myself) on the success of your treatment in my case. As I told you when we first met two months ago, I had suffered untold agony for twenty-one years with the piles, often being unable to perform any manual labor for weeks at a time, being compelled to resort to morphine to deaden the pain. Life seemed a burden and hardly worth living, the constant pain and irritation driving me nearly crazy. After trying many remedies without any permanent relief, I happened to see one of your advertisements and concluded to try once more, and thank the good Lord and Dr. Prentice, I am now once more a well man, and again life seems worth living. I should be glad if some of my suffering friends of Norwalk, Florida, and Snowberg, Maine, could be treated by you. Yours, with gratitude,
ROBERT WILLIAMS.

P. S.—At present I can be found at Spaulding's Saw Works, 17 and 19 Fremont street, S. F.

DEAFNESS.
